Retailers have set high expectations in the travel industry

Travelers

Want to compare offers and choose what suits them best in their channel of choice They also want the best service throughout the journey.

Airlines

Want to control their offers, adjusting them to best serve all their customers in their preferred channel.

Content fragmentation	The importance of normalization
Air is a 'product' just like all retail	Content is customized based on customers' needs and profiles
